"Love is like a friendship caught on fire.
In the beginning a flame, very pretty,
often hot and fierce, but still only light mature and our love becomes as coals, deep-burning and unquenchable."

A Challenge to My Fellow Homeschoolers...

Matthew Rushton

All of Matthew's workshops are wonderful, but parents, this is perhaps one of the most important workshops that Matthew will teach to your child. This workshop began as an "address" to Matthew's Senior Class for his Graduation from High School. The message was too important to be shared just in that one sphere. If you have always wanted to know what the challenge of a homeschool graduate would be for those coming behind him, this is one that will simply blow you away! In this workshop, Matthew extends a challenge to YOUR children to be all that God designed for them to be. He challenges them to prepare to "take the culture" like a barbarian! He challenges them to live a purpose-driven life today and always. He extends the challenge for them to learn for all of their lives--in all of their life! He brings forth the challenge for your children to make EVERY day count and not waste one single moment! Your children (AND you!) will leave this workshop forever changed! Don't miss it!
